All representations, warranties and descriptions of programs, facilities and services are those of the attending institutions and not those of Revolve EPS Holdings, Recruit in Canada, StudyandGoAbroad.com, or its principals. Individuals who are considering embarking on programs outside of Canada are advised to research the transferability of their potential degree to any professional program which they may later wish to undertake, or any professional organization from which they may be seeking recognition in the future. All decisions made in relation to undertaking any program showcased in any of the indicated publications or events, and the validation of information obtained regarding any aspect of this decision, are the sole responsibility of the individual him/herself.

Welcome to the Study and Go Abroad International University and Student Travel Expo!

Thanks for attending our 36th event. As always, representatives from around the world – including from within Canada – are at these prestigious events to meet with you. So, if you are looking for reliable information about doing a degree or certificate program, considering a study abroad semester or full year, looking for ideas about a gap year or career break, or are seeking the right volunteer program – you are bound to find it here.

This guide is intended to lead you to the exhibitors that are the most relevant for what you are seeking, and to give you a brief blurb on all of our exhibitors.

We hold our Study and Go Abroad Expo in key cities across Canada, and not all exhibitors are able to attend the full circuit; but in this guide you will also see information and contact websites for institutions that may not be at the venue you attended. Have a look at their profiles and email us on info@studyandgoabroad.com if you need more contact information on any exhibitor you are particularly keen to get in touch with.

Ask questions. Make notes. Take materials.

This is your chance to get in-depth information on education and experiential travel options from the experts themselves.

After the event, stay in touch with us through Facebook, Instagram and Twitter to keep up-to-date with new information as it comes out.

Enjoy the event and see you again in Fall 2020!

University of Tasmania – Tasmanian School of Medicine

Australia

V The Tasmanian School of Medicine is a five-year undergraduate medical degree in the beautiful city of Hobart.

Our premier research institution has been preparing medical students for clinical practice for more than 50 years, and is ranked within the Top 2% of universities world-wide.

Of interest to Canadian applicants is our flagship program, tailored for Canadians who wish to repatriate upon graduation. These students have the option of completing Australian and Canadian exams and electives within Canada.

Perhaps the most appealing part of our program, however, is living in what the Lonely Planet describes as one of the Top 10 Most Liveable Cities in the World.
